INTRODUCTION

The American Board of Bariatric Medicine (ABBM) is an independent medical specialty board responsible for certifying physicians in the field of bariatric medicine. The ABBM was originally organized as a committee of the American Society of Bariatric Physicians (ASBP) in 1970. Subsequently, in 1997 the ABBM was incorporated in the state of Colorado as an independent entity. Although the ABBM is not a medical specialty board of the American Board of Medical Specialties, our sister entity the ASBP was granted a seat in the AMA House of Delegates in 2001, which recognizes the ASBP as a specialty medical society.

Description of Bariatric Medicine

Bariatric medicine is the medical specialty involved in treating obesity and its related comorbidities. In 1985, the National Institutes of Health (NIH) convened a Health Consensus Development Conference on the Health Implications of Obesity and designated obesity as a specific disease entity requiring treatment by trained physicians.

Overweight and obesity affect more than 200 million people across the nation. Sixty four percent of Americans are overweight or obese resulting in economic costs of over $117 billion to our healthcare system annually. Obesity has been established as a major risk factor for cardiovascular disease, diabetes mellitus, obstructive sleep apnea, and many forms of cancer. In accordance with the ASBP/ABBM Bariatric Practice Guidelines, the ABBM advocates a comprehensive, multi-faceted approach to the treatment of obesity and its related comorbidities.

Purpose of Certificate of Advanced Training in Bariatric Medicine

The purpose of the ABBM Certificate of Advanced Training in Bariatric Medicine is to provide assurance to the public and to other medical providers that a candidate Physician Assistant or Nurse Practitioner has successfully completed a minimum base of accredited bariatric educational programs. Candidates will have successfully completed a thorough evaluation of their fund of knowledge in bariatric medicine. Candidates must pass a written examination to show comprehensive knowledge in the treatment of obesity.

Physician candidates that have not completed a U.S. or Canadian medical residency or the equivalent training in a U.S. territory are also invited to apply for the Certificate of Advanced Training in Bariatric Medicine. Candidates must pass a written examination to show comprehensive knowledge in the treatment of obesity.

ABBM in no way claims to be capable of defining and does not intend to define who may or may not practice bariatric medicine. It is neither a source of censure nor an entity for the resolution of ethical or medico-legal problems. ABBM makes no representations about the value, character, quality or competence of certificants other than that they have met or exceeded the minimum requirements for certification by ABBM. ABBM is not responsible for how third parties interpret or evaluate the fact that an individual is or is not ABBM certified.

Function of the ABBM

The ABBM provides a Certificate of Advanced Training in Bariatric Medicine to Nurse Practitioners, Physician Assistants and Physician candidates without completion of U.S. or Canadian medical residency. Eligible candidates will receive a Certificate of Advanced Training in Bariatric Medicine after successfully completing the required continuing education credits and passing the written examination.

Application Approval

The ABBM will notify applicants if they are, or are not, accepted as candidates for the Certificate of Advanced Training in Bariatric Medicine. ABBM, acting as a committee of the whole, reserves the right to deny or revoke certification if granting certification or permitting continuance of certification would adversely affect ABBM or is not in the best interest of patient health or public welfare or safety. If the applicant wishes to exercise the right to appeal this decision, the applicant must inform ABBM in writing of this intention within thirty (30) days of the date of receipt of written notification of the decision not to accept the application.

Any candidate whose license to practice medicine has been revoked, restricted or suspended in any way shall be ineligible for certification until such time as the encumbered license is reinstated in full. Should a license be revoked, restricted, or suspended following the submission of an application for certification, but prior to the notification of certificate status, the application and certification will be simultaneously invalidated.

It is the responsibility of the candidate to inform ABBM in writing immediately upon a change in licensure status. If the candidate fails to notify ABBM of any revocation, restriction, suspension, or probation within 60 days after the effective date, he or she shall be ineligible to seek certification for up to one year following the reinstatement of full and unrestricted licensure.

For purposes of ABBM certification, a medical license is considered to be restricted if it is currently subject to any adverse action by a state or provincial licensing agency which encumbers the ability of a physician to diagnose, manage, and/or treat patients. Questions about licensure should be presented to the ABBM in writing.

ABBM reserves the right to revoke certification erroneously granted to unqualified candidates, including certification granted as a result of clerical errors.

Appeals

Candidates whom ABBM has declared ineligible to sit for the certifying examination on the basis of qualifications may appeal such decisions by written request within 30 days of the date of notification of the Board's ruling.

All board examinations are supervised by proctors who are required to report any behavior which ABBM considers a violation of the integrity of its examination and certification process. Irregular behavior includes, but is not limited to, giving or obtaining unauthorized information or aid before, during, or after the examination as evidenced by observation or subsequent statistical analysis of answer sheets. Offering financial or other benefit to a proctor, employee, or agent of ABBM is forbidden.

The examination of a candidate whose conduct, in the Board's judgment, violates or attempts to violate the integrity of its examination and certification process will be invalidated and no results will be reported. In that event, the candidate would be informed of the reasons for the Board's actions and could request an opportunity to present information deemed relevant to the issue and to petition the Board to reconsider its decision.

Unforeseeable Events

In the event inclement weather, a natural disaster, war, government regulations, strikes, civil disorders, curtailment of transportation facilities or other unforeseeable events make it inadvisable, illegal or impossible for the ABBM to administer an examination to a candidate at the appointed date, time and location, or to conclude a candidate's examination, ABBM is not responsible for any of the expense the candidate may have incurred to be present for the examination, nor for any such expense the candidate may incur for any substitute examination.

ONLINE CME SOURCES

Online CME provider sites may offer overweight- and obesity-related CME topics that could be used to satisfy the ABBM CME requirement for board certification candidacy. Please note that, because of the one-year "shelf life" of these programs, program offerings on each site are frequently updated and changed. Please note that this list is not inclusive of all sites that may contain applicable CME opportunities and that your best alternative is to do a Web search for online CME using a variety of search engines.
